Top Ten Reasons to Buy American Made

"Buy American!" might sound like nothing more than a slogan advanced by American manufacturers to sell products made in the USA, but the truth is that there are many reasons to consider buying American-made clothing, American-made toys, and other US-manufactured goods. We've listed just a few of the benefits of buying American below:

Top Ten Reasons to Buy USA Made Products:

- 10) Foreign labor standards allow unsafe worker conditions in many countries. When you buy American you support not only American manufacturers but also American workers, safe working conditions, and child labor laws.
- 9) Jobs shipped abroad almost never return. When you buy goods made in the USA, you help keep the American economy growing.
- 8) US manufacturing processes are much cleaner for the environment than many other countries; many brands sold here are produced in countries using dangerous, heavily polluting processes. When you purchase American-made product, you know that you're helping to keep the world a little cleaner for your children.
- 7) Many countries have no minimum wage restrictions, or the minimum wage is outrageously low. When you choose products made in the USA, you contribute to the payment of an honest day's wages for an honest day's work.
- 6) The growing lack of USA ability to manufacture many products is strategically unsound. When you seek out American-made goods, you foster American independence.
- 5) The huge US trade deficit leads to massive, unsustainable borrowing from other countries. Debt isn't good for you and it isn't good for America.
- 4) Foreign product safety standards are low. For example, poisonous levels of lead are in tens of millions of toys shipped to the USA. When you buy toys and other goods made in the USA, you can be confident that American consumer protection laws and safety standards are in place to protect your family.
- 3) Lack of minimum wage, worker safety, or environmental pollution controls in many countries undermines the concept of "fair and free trade". No Western nation can ultimately compete on price with a country willing to massively exploit and pollute its own people. When you buy only American-made products, you insist on a higher standard.
- 2) Factories and money are shifting to countries not friendly to the USA or democracy. When you avoid imported goods in favor of American-made items, you help ensure that the United States doesn't find its access to vital goods impacted by political conflict.
- 1) As the US manufacturing ability fades, future generations of US citizens will be unable to find relevant jobs. Buy American and help keep your friends and neighbors-and even yourself-earning a living wage.

Over 60 percent of US households have WiFi, with little thought being given to the effects of the radiation it produces. Most of us never shut off our wireless routers, letting them run 24 hours a day so we can conveniently connect whenever the need arises. But there is some interesting evidence that all this radiation is harming us.

Some 34 studies have linked WiFi exposure to things like abnormal heart rates, headaches, infertility, oxidative stress, and even increased cancer risk. Recently, a group of students in Denmark set out to determine just how WiFi would affect life in general, by attempting to grow seedlings near such common radiation.

The students initially wanted to test cellphone radiation effects on humans since they had noticed they lacked focus on days after sleeping near their cellphones. But their school, Hjallerup School, didn't have the resources for such an experiment. Instead, they opted to test the growth of plants when near Wifi.

Six trays filled with Lepidium sativum (a garden cress) were placed in a room with two routers. Another six trays were placed in a room where there was no cellular radiation. Even before their 12-day study period was over, the results were astounding. The radiation produced by two routers is similar to that produced by ordinary cell phones, according to the girls' calculations.

The seedlings in the radiation room had either not grown or were completely dead. Those in the non-radiation room were thriving.

Not only did the students win top honors in a science competition, they earned the interest of scientists around the world. Their teacher reports a professor of neuroscience from the Karolinska Institute in Sweden is working to recreate their experience in a controlled scientific setting.

More than likely, your Wifi is having some effects on your health and wellbeing, whether you recognize it or not. You can limit your exposure by shutting off the router when it's not in use. One of the simplest ways of doing this is putting the device on a timer, so it shuts down in the evening hours. These timers are available at most home improvement stores for less than $20.

Help Kids Appreciate Nature

A Nature Table brings the outside world indoors.

By: Natural Vitality

Creating an appreciation for nature in our children is one way to promote future generations of environmentally friendly adults. It also helps our kids learn to enjoy the simple beauty and pleasure found in the natural world. While younger children may not be so keen on reflection, they do love to collect things. For an engaging activity that promotes a love of the outdoors for two- to eight-year-olds, consider a Nature Table. It works like this:

You will need a small, low table to place in a common area of the house, such as the living or dining room. This is your Nature Table. When you are out and about with the children, allow them to collect one or several items to bring back and place on the Nature Table. The only rule is that the objects must be natural. Kids will love finding these treasures, like rocks, leaves, sticks and so on. Allow them to play with the items on the table and rearrange them as they wish.

Here are some tips to have fun with your Nature Table:

- Create different themes for the table, such as the seasons or rocks, leaves or sticks.
- Go on a weekly Nature Table walk to find treasures.
- Cover the table with different colors of fabric for a change or to mark a change of season.
- Change the Nature Table on specific days, such as winter and summer solstice or the first day of a season, to connect your child to seasonal changes in nature.
- Place a magnifying glass on the table to inspect items close up.
